

BCON achieved through “wilderness management” of urban green space

Author: Gao Yilei

Abstract:

Biodiversity Conservation in Our Neighborhood (BCON) is an effective method to balance environment protection and development. Sustainable livelihoods and biodiversity protection can walk in tandem under BCON's guide. This article introduces an example from the city of Beijing about how the mode of “wilderness management” of urban green space promotes BCON.

Key words: BCON, sustainable livelihoods, wilderness management
